BREAKING NEWS

NEW TEXAS LAW REQUIRING DRUNK
DRIVERS TO PAY CHILD SUPPORT IF PARENTS ARE KILLED IN ACCIDENT

ABOUT BILL HB-393

Starting September 1, 2023, the bill HB-393 will become law. HB-393 states that any person convicted of intoxication manslaughter that results in the death of a parent or guardian will be ordered to pay restitution for a child whose parent or guardian was the victim of the offense.

The court will determine an amount to be paid monthly for the support of the child until the child reaches 18 years of age or has graduated from high school, whichever is later.

If the defendant cannot make payments due to imprisonment, the defendant shall begin payments no later than the first anniversary of the defendant's release.

REAL CLIENTS, REAL STORIES

Losing a family member in a car accident is one of the most challenging situations a person can ever face. Knowing where to look for help or who to contact can be difficult. Finding legal representation in a situation like this can seem overwhelming and even impossible. It often takes months or even years before receiving any resolution, making the process extremely stressful.

Unfortunately, Natividad found himself in this situation after his father and son were in a severe car accident. His father passed away due to the accident, but his son still needed help recovering from the injuries. That is when Natividad contacted Herrman and Herrman PLLC. Now, with our law firm by his side, Natividad was able to provide his son the care he needed and not have to worry about how to handle his case.

DIY “Bleeding Candle” Halloween Decoration

Materials needed:
White Pillar Candles
Red Crayons
Lighter

Instructions:

Remove any paper covering from the red crayon.

Carefully hold the red crayon over the white candle.

Use a utility lighter to heat the crayon until it begins to melt.

Once it starts to melt, slowly move it around the candle to create a spooky bleeding effect.

Let the candle dry before using.
