LETTER FROM SANTA

Ho ho ho, friends!

Santa Claus here, extending warm greetings from the frosty North Pole! I'm excited to share joyous news—it's Letters to Santa season, a heartwarming tradition close to my jolly old heart! Gather 'round, kids of all ages, because I want to hear from you!

This year, there's something extra special. Instead of just listing the gifts you desire, share joyous moments and good deeds. It's about spreading love, kindness, and joy. In your letters, share why you deserve a spot on the nice list. Did you help with chores or assist a neighbor? Let me know, and I'll check my list twice!

This year, I've teamed up with Herrman & Herrman, spreading even more Christmas cheer. They'll randomly select letters, making a special trip to pick out a present just for you! Submit all letters by December 16th.

Participate by dropping off your letter at Herrman & Herrman's North Pole post stations or use the online form at www.herrmanandherrman.com/santa.

North Pole Post Stations:

Include your parent's contact info on your letters—phone number, email, and home address. So we can ensure your special toy finds its way on Christmas Eve.

As you submit your letters, know you're contributing to the Christmas spirit. Christmas is a time for love, kindness, and coming together as a big, joyful family.

Dear friends, grab those pens, let the magic flow through your words. Write your Letters to Santa with joy, and I'll be eagerly waiting. Santa loves you all, and the magic of Christmas is alive in giving and sharing.
